

There are many reasons why a cookie could not be set correctly. Below are the most common reasons:

- You have cookies disabled in your browser. You need to reset your browser to accept cookies or to ask you if you want to accept cookies.
- Your browser asks you whether you want to accept cookies and you declined. To accept cookies from this site, use the Back button and accept the cookie.
- Your browser does not support cookies. Try a different browser if you suspect this.
- The date on your computer is in the past. If your computer's clock shows a date before 1 Jan 1970, the browser will automatically forget the cookie. To fix this, set the correct time and date on your computer.
- You have installed an application that monitors or blocks cookies from being set. You must disable the application while logging in or check with your system administrator.

Why Does this Site Require Cookies?

This site uses cookies to improve performance by remembering that you are logged in when you go from page to page. To provide access without cookies would require the site to create a new session for every page you visit, which slows the system down to an unacceptable level.

What Gets Stored in a Cookie?

This site stores nothing other than an automatically generated session ID in the cookie; no other information is captured.

In general, only the information that you provide, or the choices you make while visiting a web site, can be stored in a cookie. For example, the site cannot determine your email name unless you choose to type it. Allowing a website to create a cookie does not give that or any other site access to the rest of your computer, and only the site that created the cookie can read it.

Current Page Path. Home > Archives and Manuscripts M-S. Archives and Manuscripts M-S. A-f | g-l | m-s | t-z. Man Who Shot Frick, The Archive, 1992. . 25 ft. Among other materials on the subject of labor are financial records and newspaper clippings describing meetings of the Detroit Council of Trades and Labor Unions, 1880s and 1890s; a brief history of the International Working People's Association and the 1883 Pittsburgh Congress at which it was founded; one letter regarding the Trade Union Educational League, 1922, and two regarding the. On May 15 a massive demonstration formed at Berkeley's Sproul Plaza. Police shot teargas cannisters and buckshot, ultimately killing student James Rector and wounding numerous others. Gift of Dieter Blessing, 1996. Classic text on Archives by santos_roman_3. By 1958. but he returned to the National Archives where until his retirement in 1963 he held a variety of positions leading to the title of Assistant Archivist of the United States. J. then joined the newly established National Archives. he was described as a "circuit rider. these training sessions were open to them also. Modern Archives was more than the text of a series of lectures delivered in Australia on a 1954 Fulbright Fellowship. there was little literature on the subject except for two European books— S. both also dealt with recordkeeping systems alien. "Current registry and records management. the relation of the principles and techniques of an archival institution to those of a library. as I have been helped in writing it.